The Longhorn Center for School Partnerships at The University of Texas at Austin offers dual credit (concurrent enrollment) courses through our Pre-College Academic Readiness Programs (PCARP). PCARP is part of UT-Austin's Division of Diversity and Community Engagement (DDCE). The DDCE's mission is to provide academic preparation and college literacy opportunities to schools and districts underrepresented in higher education, though any school is welcome to participate. We hope you will be interested in collaborating with us to implement these authentic college experiences for students at your school and/or district. Preparations for the 2015-16 academic year are underway.

Below is a list of all dual credit courses currently available through PCARP for you to consider offering during the 2015-16 academic year. Please indicate your selections below. Please return this "letter of intent to participate" by 27 February 2015 to Dr. Eric Dieter, PCARP Executive Director, at ericdieter@austin.utexas.edu.

For each program you select, a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) will be emailed to either you or your district representative for an official signature. When returning the letter of intent, please indicate if someone(s) at your school and/or district other than you needs to receive the MOU by providing their contact information. If your local contract approval processes are protracted, you are encouraged to submit the letter of intent as soon as possible so we can generate the MOU's for you as quickly as possible.

An annual report highlighting the recent successes of the established ChemBridge and SPURS programs is available for download from the link in my signature. The U.S. History program will begin piloting in 2015-16. If you have questions, or would like additional information, please contact me at ericdieter@austin.utexas.edu and 512.232.4700.

We look forward to working with you to offer these opportunities to your teachers and students.
Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,
Eric Dieter, Ph.D.
