

The Role of Disability and Access (D&A)

The University of Texas at Austin is committed to ensuring that all students have equal access to, and full participation in, all of the programs, services and facilities. Disability and Access (D&A) is part of a campus-wide effort to ensure all areas on campus are accessible to students, faculty, staff and visitors with disabilities. Because each student is different and has a unique experience at UT, different accommodations, services and supports may be necessary to provide equal access. It is up to the student to reach out and connect with the resources they may need during their time on campus.

Disability and Access works with students to ensure they have equal access to their academic experiences at UT by determining eligibility and approving reasonable academic accommodations, services and supports. D&A's goal is to support students in achieving access to their educational experience through individualized accommodations while encouraging independence and self-advocacy.
