

Why have a Leadership Summit?

Research shows that by establishing a positive, long-term relationship with a student, there is an increase in the mentee's confidence, self-esteem, and sense of hope.

EPISD, EPCC and UTEP believe students who are in mentoring programs are more likely to graduate and complete their public school education. Together we are committed in giving opportunities to young men to help them realize their potential by setting goals to keep them on the road to success.

Thank you to all who gave graciously of their time to be part of this years Leadership Summit.

Juan Cangas has spent most of his life pursuing one question, “Why do some people succeed in life while other fail?”

Juan had to find his own motivation to succeed as a young Latino teen wrestling with the challenges of life.

His drive to overcome barriers and desire to make his mother proud helped him become the first person in his family to attend college.

Juan is an authority in youth leadership development, with over 6 years of experience inspiring.
